Currently I work in the IT department as Junior IT and process digitalization specialist at Robert Bosch in Wrocław. My department is focused on managing the IT infrastructure in the production area (more in Experience). I am also a student of the Wrocław University of Technology at the Faculty of Computer Science and Communication Technology in the field of Applied Computer Science. My leading programming language is Python. I do not have any problems with learning other programming languages. I can use English at the B2 level. Additionally I work with adults and children as an illusionist during various events. From an early age I played volleyball at the Exact Systems Norwid Częstochowa club.
